

Climate Justice & Indigenous Allyship

What Does It Mean? How Do We Get There?

Saturday, June 11, 2016, 10 am–4 pm

Senate and Board Chamber at Wilfrid Laurier University

75 University Avenue West, Waterloo

Energy, environmental protection and Indigenous rights are inextricably linked. This forum offers support for faith communities to move toward allyship with Indigenous communities in the context of climate justice in Canada. Speakers will address the complexities of Canada's climate future and our relationship with Indigenous peoples through a faith lens. Interactive panels will ensure that participants have an opportunity to engage with Indigenous teachings, ask questions, and join in conversations.

"Salmon" by
Don Skillen,
Métis Artist
4. Change

Keynotes:

ELDER MYEENGUN HENRY: Allyship and the Struggle of the Chippewas of the Thames First Nation against Line 9

DR. BYRON WILLISTON: Climate Change and the Demands of Justice

Tickets are $25 earlybird or $35 after May 20 (includes lunch). PWYC tickets are available. Purchase a ticket or request a PWYC ticket on-line at:

<http://tinyurl.com/allyshipforum>

Round-trip bus transportation from Toronto, Hamilton, and London can be added for $20. Group rates are available. Please contact:

network@faithcommongood.org

Panels will address allyship, the interfaith response, and climate justice. Panelists include: John Dillon • Interfaith Grand River • Leah Gazan • Lindsay Gray • Melissa Ireland • Sheri Longboat • John Milloy • Dorothy Taylor • Mardi Tindal

Presented by:

Faith & the Common Good

Green
Awakening
Network

Divest Waterloo

